

Who am I?

Can you guess which famous person you are in twenty questions?

Put a sticky note on each other's foreheads or backs with the name of a famous person.

Take it in turns asking yes or no questions, until you get a no and the next person takes their turn.

This game could also be changed to 'What am I?' or to be more specific, e.g. what animal, food, cartoon character etc, depending on the age of the children playing.
