

At my birthday ...

This is a memory game for all the family to play in which everyone must work together as a team to make it last as long as possible!

Whoever will be next to celebrate their birthday begins the game by saying, “At my birthday I want ...”, and finishes with whatever they choose, e.g. birthday cake, presents, ice cream, pizza.

Each player takes it in turns to repeat what has been said previously, plus adding something of their own.

Alternatively you could play, “I went to the shop and I bought ...” and list the items alphabetically.
